DETAILS This IP65 washdown lift with expanding mandrel was engineered to be dust-tight and protected against water to ensure most types of goods, particularly in industries with strict sanitary requirements such as food processing and pharmaceutical environments, are easily and safely moved. All electronics, such as control unit, battery compartment and motor compartments are securely enclosed to withstand a jet of water which is relevant when needing to hose down the lift.

An IP65 rating also ensures a longer lifespan and can operate even in very challenging environments. In addition to its safe operations, the system is also able to lift up to 200 pounds.
